HEAD BOY:

To the matrics of 2022, congratulations for making it this far! Eleven years of schooling have all led to this year. Make the most of your matric year as you only get to be a senior once. Although it is a great privilege, I would advise you to remember that there is a lot of responsibility that comes with this role.

Always be aware of how you come across to the younger learners, especially the new crop of Grade 8s. They are young, impressionable and will look to you for inspiration and guidance. Therefore, you should treat them with respect and also be a good role model to them in terms of your behaviour.

To the new learner council members and executive committee, I wish you good luck for the year and the challenges that lie ahead. I hope that you are able to work together seamlessly and are able to be transparent and supportive towards each other to work as effectively as possible. I am looking forward to seeing your work, from the outside looking in, and I am sure you will exceed expectations.

I have no doubt that 2022 will be a fantastic year for you all and I hope that your matric year will be filled with many more memories that my group was able to make.

HEAD GIRL:
Emma Beckley

As we near the end of this very challenging and unpredictable year, I have been left to reflect on the events of the very busy past months. Although this year did not go how many of us expected it to, it has still been full of fun adventures and memories. Staying motivated and positive in times like these is a challenge that most people have faced. Being in a leadership position has taught me that sometimes the most important example you can set is simply being hopeful in difficult times. We are all blindly navigating our way through these uncertain times, so it is a leader's responsibility to shed a bit of light along this path. Being the head girl of this school that I love so dearly has been an honour. Through all of the ups and downs, I'm grateful that I was able to go through this experience.
