'Why, sometimes I've believed as many as six impossible things before breakfast.'

– Lewis Carroll

My journey with Curro Bloemfontein started in 2019 as I created great memories in sport and academics. I can proudly say I enjoyed my high school life. I cherish the special moments shared with friends, teachers and other learners.

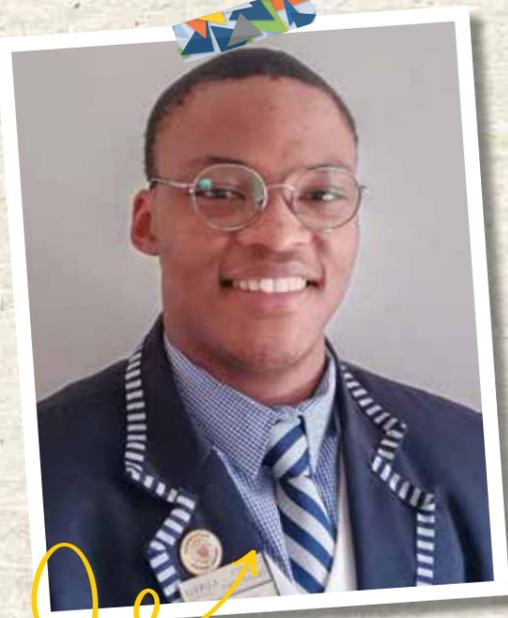

I like to call 2021 the year of great expectations, one that held its own share of great surprises. Never have I imagined that in my last year of high school I would be the head leader.

I have watched myself learn and grow remarkably from day to day, hoping that everything I have learnt, will help me improve my life along the way.

The motivation and support of teachers and coaches have shown me that there are no limits to what you can achieve ... with hard work and determination you will achieve your goals. They may give us lots of work to handle, but I'm forever grateful for their support.

To the Class of 2022: I wish you all greatness in your matric year, enjoy it but at the same time remember to work hard, as this is the year where you are taught to be independent and to focus on the bigger picture. Your matric year is more of a marathon, you have to focus on yourself and not others as you run through the journey to success.

To the prefects of 2022: Be the voice of the school, work to represent the school in a positive manner, remember that small things do go a long way within the school environment as learners look up to you for inspiration. Respect teachers and listen to the learners' concerns, offer support and step in for extra help, but remember to follow the promise you made to the school and treasure the great memories you will create as a team.

I first roamed the school halls, a shy and troubled young girl. I now leave as a slightly less shy and troubled young woman! There were times when I was truly happy and times when I really felt down in the dumps. There were times when I couldn't handle the stress that came with juggling school and my personal life. My life didn't mirror the lives that my peers seemed to live, and I changed myself in an attempt to fit in with the crowd at school and at home. My mental health suffered most in those five years.

I ended up using unhealthy coping mechanisms. Put your holistic well-being first and don't take anything for granted! The way that you react to any situation you are in, whether it be good or bad, has an effect on who you become in the near future. Don't wait until you are in trouble to reflect on your life choices and change your ways. If necessary, talk to someone you trust about your troubles.

Never make decisions based solely off your emotions because your emotions will change, but you will have to live with the consequences of that decision forever. Finally, use this time to put yourself at an advantage. This is the best time to do this because you start to understand how the world works without having to worry about the responsibility that comes with being a part of it.

I urge you to use what time is left of high school wisely. Live each day as if it is your last, because time is the one thing that no one has.
