Dear Grade 12 Class of 2022

Dealing with grades, studying and preparing for finals can be stressful – but in the end, your grades don't define you.

Take the time to discover the different dimensions of your potential being. You don't want to leave Grade 12 knowing that you lived only a fractional inkling of what is really within you.

A little progress each day adds up to big results. This doesn't only count for exams, but for yourself too. Grow, enjoy, smile, and don't waste time on the things you can't control. Do your best and forget the rest. Looking back, I wish I had spent less time on worrying. Have faith in yourself and believe that things always work out perfectly the way they should.

Be yourself. You are so much more than an index of insecurities and a forest of fears. Let Grade 12 be the year that you turn your library of lost dreams into reality.

Lastly, remember you are so much more – the you that you are yet to be.

Before I say anything, I'd like to thank you all. Thank you to my classmates for voting for me, thank you to management and teachers for trusting me with the responsibility and to my fellow council members for respecting me and allowing me to lead you guys.

To my fellow matrics, guys I'm so proud of us. This year was supposed to be something of a nightmare for us, but during this year I've been more exposed to our character as a generation than ever. It was definitely an unconventional ride, but our ability to continue putting one step forward even when life kept pushing us two steps back, is something that speaks volumes on our resilience and determination. Those are excellent qualities to have as we face the next chapter of our lives.

In addition, I'd like to wish the next group of leaders good luck for next year. To those who weren't part of the learner council, if you are set on being a good leader you will send waves that will be felt by the entire high school, because greatness has no past experience, it can only be experienced.

My last thanks goes to all the parents. Thank you for believing in us and never giving up on us. It is you who saw our real value. It is you who have made us who we are today and I would like to thank you for that.

I wish each and every one of you luck, I pray God's richest blessings over you, peace and prosperity, until we meet again.
